

Arthur Nelson departed last night for his home at Taylor, Wis. He was helping his brothers in their hardware store during the summer and fall months and made an able and obliging clerk. During his stay here, he made many friends who regret to see him go.