

John Walker left on Saturday evening for British Columbia where he expects to make his home in the future. Mr. Walker spent some time in that country once before and came back to North Dakota and made some more money and will try it again in the west.

Anton Severud returned last