

The writer met Howard Wilson in Valley City the other day while he was on his way to Fargo to receive further treatment for his eyes. It will be welcome news to Mr. Wilson's many friends to learn that his eyes are improving rapidly and in a short time he expects to regain his normal vision.