Julius J. Eddy, one of the oldest residents of the county, died at his home near Jamestown on Tuesday of last week at the age of 63. He had been afflicted with diabetis since last spring and for some time had been very weak. The remains were laid to rest on Friday in the Jamestown cemetery.