

TRACK.

L. H. Larson launched his new snow boat on Wednesday morning and when some of the inhabitants of Courtenay arose from their slumbers all they could see was a streak of a snow boat with two men in it going out south of town. They were going at the rate of twenty miles an hour and everything went merrily until the wind became so strong that it broke one of the ropes that fastened the sail and the boat had to be abandoned for the time being a few miles out in the country. But the boat is a great success and will afford lots of pleasure for Mr. Larson and his friends —if the wind blows.
