

Ed Deverell returned Tuesday night from Fargo where he had been an inmate of St. John's hospital for a week. He had an abscess removed from his arm, with which he had been afflicted for some time and he is now getting along nicely. Ed said his arm was a little stiff but that he could use it fairly well?