

---

J. W. Kingston returned from points in Idaho the latter part of last week and feels greatly improved in health after a thorough rustication in the sage brush country of the West and the pure dry air of the coast country. He has proved up on his homestead, having completed his term of residence to the satisfaction of the government.

---