

John Rapp arrived yesterday morning from Rochester, Minn., where he had been under the care of the Mayo brothers for several weeks. They pronounced his case a severe attack of bronchitis but were very optimistic for his recovery, and, though it will take some time to regain his former health, he is getting along fine and with proper care of himself will recover entirely.

---