

---

While riding a horse, Arthur Vraalstadt, the 14-year old son of Steven Vraalstadt, had the misfortune to break his leg just above the ankle, Saturday of last week. The horse slipped while running at a good rate of speed and in falling threw his full weight on the boy's leg, fracturing it. Dr. Shepard set the fractured member, and though it causes considerable pain the injured leg is healing as fast as could be expected.

---