

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wang and children arrived yesterday morning from Minneapolis. They departed last fall for that place with the expectation that Mr. Wang would be able to secure a lucrative position with the Soo railroad but the long drawn out fight between the switchmen and the road management caused them disappointment along that line and they decided to return to the state where poverty is unknown and prosperity prevails.