

---

Wm. Wiechman, Jr., is seriously ill at the home of his parents south of town from an attack of appendicitis which came on very suddenly. He is very weak and an operation will not be undertaken until he becomes stronger, fearing that he would not be able to survive the anesthetics.

---