

John Albrecht had the misfortune to break his arm just above the wrist several days ago. A horse stumbled into a badger hole, hence the accident. He says it is getting along all right but it happened at a very important time and his friends will have to harvest his crop.