

Joe Nitchey had the misfortune to be kicked by a horse about a week ago, just below the knee. He has suffered considerable pain and an operation was performed today to relieve him. He expects to be all right again in the course of a week.