

Pleasantview Notes

Well say wasn't that a cold snap? I guess yes.

Rev. and Mrs. Shaver returned from Bowden last week and are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bemis. The people in this neighborhood are glad to see them back again.

Rev. Schooly of Iowa has been conducting revival meetings at the Free Methodist church. He is an able preacher and is not at all partial as to whom he hits. He returned home on Monday.

Nels Fuglstad goes around wearing a broad smile and the reason for it is that a little boy has arrived at his home. Nels says it is an uncommonly smart boy and he challenges the state to produce a better one. This makes two boys for Nels and nary a girl. Don't let that occur again Nels.

Swan Swanson expects to leave shortly for a trip to Wisconsin to have a time with the boys—so Swan says—but we think Swan is off on business, probably matrimonial. Well, we wish you success old man and we will have the brass band out to meet you at the depot.

Miss Pearl Bemis, who has been home on a visit to her parents, returned to Jamestown last week to resume her studies.

Tom Bradford and Art Ele went to Fargo on Tuesday to attend the Farmers' convention.

Robert Bradford is still visiting with his parents here and seems to be enjoying this nice Dakota weather. Bob says they had a bumper crop in the Canadian Northwest this year, some of the wheat going as high as 40 bushels to the acre.

Mrs. Dena Solberg returned last week from her home in Wisconsin where she made a flying visit. She is glad to get back to North Dakota.

Mrs. Ole Anderson, who has been very sick, is now fully recovered and able to be around again.

Martin McWethy purchased a fine organ from P. E. Ahearn. Mart is bound to have music wherever he goes.
