

PLEASANTVIEW NOTES

That snow storm was all O. K.

Fred Zollner and Frank Clark made a flying business trip to this vicinity. Come again boys when you can stay longer.

John Bradford honored this vicinity with his presence on Monday and as usual Jack had not time to say more than hello when he vanished in a cloud of dirt. Glad to see your shadow anyway Jack, it kind of breaks the monotony of this place to see you.

Frank Kingsley is going to have an automobile. He received word that it was at Valley City and pretty soon Frank will be showing 'em some speed.

W. W. Bemis and Roy and Charlie Bemis attended the opening of the Free Methodist church in the McHenry district.

Mr. and Mrs. Bemis attended the funeral of James Wright at Dazey on Monday. Mr. Wright was one of the pioneers of Barnes county and settled near Dazey about 25 years ago. Four or five years ago his mind was enfeebled a blood vessel bursting on the brain and although the most skillful physicians were consulted he was unable to obtain any relief and it was deemed advisable to send him to the insane hospital. Contented and happy he passed away on May 7th. He leaves a wife and four children.

It is said by some of the wise ones that a matrimonial contract is about to be completed after seeding. Let the good work continue and may we be there to see it is our prayer.

Mike Kirkeby visited McHenry on Friday. Mike says McHenry was jubilant over the rain.

Joe Höggarth is breaking with his engine. He hauls three gang plows and the iron horse pulls from daylight to dark without stopping and does not get tired.
