

Edward Reid and his sister, Mrs. James Whitehead of Blackwood, New Jersey, started for their homes on Wednesday after having spent several weeks with their brothers here. It is said that Mr. Reid had quite an experience one day this week while fishing at Spiritwood lake in hauling in one of the largest fish that was ever caught in the lake. He was just returning from an unsuccessful trip out on the lake and his spirits were very low, when suddenly there appeared in the water a large object and it was all that he could do to haul it into the boat. It proved to be a good catch and Mr. Reid returned home feeling pretty good.
