

Miss Edith May Goodman, the seventeen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Goodman of Jamestown, died suddenly on Tuesday morning of this week at her home. She had been in poor health for some time and had never fully recovered from an attack of typhoid fever which she had last fall, but for the past week she seemed to be much better than at any time since the attack and death came as an unexpected visitor.