Sylvester Marsolek died on Wednesday of this week at 11 o'clock after a lingering illness. The nature of his disease does not seem to have been fully understood by his relatives, but for more than a month he had eaten scarcely anything and his death had been expected for a long time. He was about 60 years of age and had lived west of town for some time and was a German Polander. He was the father of a large family all of whom are living in this vicinity and are well to do. The funeral was held to day and the remains were interred in the cemetery at the Polish Catholic church south of town.
