

HOWEVER.

On the way home with a load of straw Mr. Lien upset his load and the team pulled the sleigh from under the straw rack and started for home but didn't stop there, but went on and had a four mile run, and were caught by Kunze at Rapp's place. No damage done except that Mr. Lien and his son had to walk about two miles for home and the sleigh scattered broadcast on the road. Dad, who followed in the rear, also with a load of straw, while deciding whether to laugh or lament over Lien's misfortune, took a tumble all in a heap only a few rods from Lien's straw load. No damage done only the trouble of reloading.

DAD.
