

---

Bert Parsons is probably the happiest man in town just at this time and he has every reason to be so. His estimable wife did not know hardly what to get Bert for Christmas so she thought she would let him start the new-year feeling good, so on the last day of the old year she presented her husband with a fine bouncing boy. We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Parsons on the arrival of the heir to the house of Parsons.

---