

Tin Wedding. ✓

The old (?) folks were young again Tuesday evening. The occasion was the tenth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Ayrea. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton had invited them over to spend the evening and then invited a number of their friends in to surprise them and celebrate the event. Just as Mr. and Mrs. Ayrea arrived, three sleigh loads of friends drove up, the horses dancing to music by Brown's tin horn band. The evening was spent in playing various games with high sounding names. From the larder of the hostess and the well filled baskets of the friends who had gathered, one of those excellent suppers for which the Cooperstown women are so well noted, was served. This particular supper consisted of raised biscuit, sliced ham, relishes, coffee, ice cream and cake. Supper over, the table was filled with a large number as well as variety of tinware articles as tokens of the esteem in which the bride and groom are held in the town. The surprise was complete and the evening a very pleasant one and one long to be remembered, not only by Mr. and Mrs. Ayrea, but also by those present.
