

TAYLOR—GIMBLETT. ✓

A very quiet but interesting event took place at 8 p. m., Tuesday, only the immediate relatives being invited. The event was no less than the marriage of Miss Thirza Gimblett to Rev. James M. Taylor, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall. Mrs. Hall is a sister of the bride, and the ceremony was performed by a brother of the bride, Rev. W. H. Gimblett, assisted by Revs. B. A. Burns of the M. E. Church, and E. S. Shaw of the Congregational. The ceremony was performed on the lawn in front of the residence. The bride wore a dun colored gown trimmed with cream cheffon and pearl passementerie and carried a beautiful boquet of white roses. Following the ceremony Rev. Gimblett baptized Grace Marian, the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Hall. An excellent supper was served to the guests. A large number of presents were received.

The Courier joins a host of friends in extending hearty congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Taylor.

Rev. Taylor was pastor of the M. E. church here for the past year and while he did good work in that line he seems also to have had an eye out along other lines as well. In view of this result of his year's work he ought and no doubt does feel amply paid for his work. Miss Gimblett will be greatly missed in the community. As primary teacher in our public school she has made a large place for herself in the hearts of both pupils and parents and has exerted an influence that will reach far into the future. May her mantle fall on worthy shoulders. As a christian worker she has been closely identified with the Congregational church as a Sunday school teacher, member of the choir, and one of the main supports of the prayer meeting. She is also one of the leading workers in the union Y. P. S. C. E. In all these lines of work she will be greatly missed. Her early christian training as well as her experience as a teacher and christian worker have fitted her well to be a pastor's wife. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left Thursday for Oakes, Mr. Taylor's present field of labor, where they will set up housekeeping in the parsonage which is all prepared for their coming.
