

Will Glaspell met with hard luck last Friday. His horse had received a cut on one foot from a barbed wire fence and in dressing the foot the ungrateful animal kicked Will in the side causing inflammation of the bowels. Dr. Bergstrom was immediately summoned and we understand that Will is getting along all right.