

Alderman Jack Flynn was going around town last Sunday with a grin on his face as large as the map of Ireland. The aforesaid grin was occasioned by the arrival of a fine boy baby at his home on that beautiful day. The Courier congratulates the genial alderman on this acquisition to the family and if your work is not attended to as promptly as usual, please make the necessary allowances. Jack must celebrate and says "this is no dream."