

Married—at 4 p. m., Saturday, February 3d, 1900, Mr. Carl Nylander of Cooperstown, N. D., to Miss Annie Johnson, of Steele county, Rev. B. A. Burns tying the knot which linked these young people together for better or for worse through life. The groom is one of Mr. J. C. Flynn's trusted employes and is a steady industrious young man, who is always found at his post holding the lines over one of the best dray teams on earth. The bride is a stranger to the Courier scribe but at the same time she has our hearty congratulations for a long and happy wedded life. The Courier hopes that Carl will always keep the wood box full, etc., as he solemnly promised he would when he stood up in front of the parson, also to obey his wife at all times without any back talk. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Nylander are domiciled at the P. K. Moe hostelry.
