

Andrew Cowdrey met with quite a misfortune last Thursday. While rounding up some cattle on horseback out at H. G. Chamberlin's, his horse slipped on some ice and fell and as a result his right leg is cracked from the ankle up. Dr. Kerr attended to his injuries and he is getting along as well as could be expected. It will be several weeks before Mr. Cowdrey will be able to use his right leg with any degree of safety.