

Flour took a very sudden drop last Friday. Jack Flynn's dray team was standing in front of McDermott's harness shop in the afternoon, and one of the horses got its head caught in Attorney Baldwin's bicycle and could not shake it off. The team became frightened and ran away scattering sacks of Phipps Best all over the avenue. They ran into the town lamp post by P. E. Nelson's and tore that down and during the fracas the bicycle got loose and was dropped to the ground without sustaining any injury. There was a hot time for a few minutes.
