

Pete Stewart was in town Wednesday to telegraph for a doctor stating that their baby was sick. During the night the little one was called home by its heavenly Father who will comfort the bereaved parents as no one else can. The little one was buried Friday in the Hannaford cemetery. They also moved and buried with it the child they lost a few years ago.