

J. B. Armstrong was kicked in the head by a horse last Tuesday evening. He was leading a horse through Richardson's barn when one of the horses standing in a stall kicked and struck Mr. Armstrong behind the ear, inflicting a gash which required two stitches to close, but fortunately no bones were fractured.