

Harald, the youngest son of Rev. P. A. Thoreson, was the victim of a painful accident Sunday. He was trying to climb over a board fence when he fell, and in some way got his hand caught and wrenched so badly that some bones in the wrist were broken.