

—The boys—and some of them were quite large to be called by that name—raised particular—mischief around town last Monday evening in celebration of All Halloween. Wagons, farm machinery of all kinds and small buildings blocked up the streets the next morning, making them present a very much confused appearance. Out houses around town were overturned, the most of them being considerably damaged. The latter foolhardy trick should be put a stop to. It is all right for the boys to have fun, but when it comes to the destruction of property then the miscreants should be severely dealt with by law.
