

—A team of bronchos hitched to the stage made things quite lively last Friday afternoon. Mail carrier Wade had just returned with the mail from Clifford and had unhitched all except one of the tugs from the rig when the horses became frightened and started running. Mr. Wade was just in the act of unhitching the remaining tug and in some manner got between the tug and the tongue when the bronchos commenced kicking. They kicked numerous times barely missing his head and at last one of them bit him on the leg, knocking him down and the buggy ran over him, hurting him quite badly. The horses ran for a short time and succeeded in overturning the rig and getting loose from it, but were finally captured on the prairie. Mr. Wade was laid up several days from his hurts, but is now able to get around again.

—Hicks, the weather prophet, has the fol-