

---

Many will remember Miss Clare Owen, niece of C. H. Owen, who visited here several years ago and made herself quite popular by her ladylike and modest deportment. After leaving here and returning to her home she married a minister named Sanders, and they recently made their home in Denver. The sad news of her death was received here yesterday by her relatives. She underwent a surgical operation and was apparently on the road to recovery, when pneumonia set in with fatal results.

---