

Pollock-Henry.

C. W. Pollock, of Fingal, and Miss Carrie Henry were united in marriage Tuesday afternoon, the ceremony occurring at the residence of the bride's parents in this city. Rev. Dalton, of the Congregational church, officiated and used the impressive Episcopal wedding service. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Pollock, of Fargo; Rev. and Mrs. Fred J. Hilborn, of Tower City; Mrs. J. Parkhouse, of St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Dalton, Major Black and Misses Helen Bascom and Kate Connor. The presents included many very handsome and valuable gifts of cut glass, china and silverware.

The bride for a number of years has been Major Black's assistant in his abstract office, having charge of the same during his absence, and has a wide acquaintance and many warm friends. Mr. Pollock is one of Fingal's most prominent merchants and is popular with all who know him. Their many friends throughout the county extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Pollock will remain in the city a few days and will then leave for an eastern trip with the intention of being away several weeks. In the spring they will commence housekeeping at Fingal.
