

Mrs. Fred Kuder and children had a narrow escape from what might have been a serious accident. They were sitting in a buggy near a threshing rig when the horse shied and wheeled suddenly, overturning the rig. Fortunately a man standing near by was able to hold the horse and pull the child out at once. No one was hurt.

A young man employed on the Kuder farm was quite badly hurt in the same storm. He was struck in the back by a hay rack blown from a wagon near by. Dr. Gosslee was called and found the young man in great pain, which lasted all night. An assisting physician was sent for from Valley City. The man is now able to be up and is fast recovering.
