

The writer called on W. A. Adams at St. Luke's hospital while in Fargo last week and found him feeling fine and in good spirits. We have heard since that Mr. Adams has been permitted to get up out of bed.