

Kathleen Rassman is laid up with a fractured knee, the result of a fall while playing in the schoolhouse basement one day last week. She was taken to Cooperstown by her parents, where it was found that the injured part would have to be placed in a cast. It will be some time before she is able to walk.