

The house on the farm occupied by Pete Altringer was burned Wednesday night of last week. The barking of their dog aroused the family who otherwise might have been trapped by the flames.