

Banister Banter

Winsome Wit and Wisdom

For in much wisdom is much grief; and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrow.

Ecclesiastes 1, 18.

Teacher [of colored school,]
"Rastus, what animal is most noted for its fur?"

Rastus, "De skunk! De more fur you get away from 'im de better it is fur you."—The Small Pica.

Luck may make a man rich but it will never make him a gentleman.—Edgar A. Guest

The only tips that are dependable are found on asparagus.—American Magazine.

Prof: Didn't I tell you not to laugh out loud?

Ive: I didn't I laughed up my sleeve but it has a hole at the elbow.

There is something significant behind that name Hyde. Makes one involuntarily think of Seek.

Our H. S. Philosopher

Prof: What important thing have we now that we didn't have 500 years ago?

E. McD: "Me!"

Peace can be contributed to by respect for our ability in defense.—Herbert Hoover

Red [trying to explain the word thief] "Now, if I'd put my hand in your pocket and take out a five dollar bill what would I be?"

Burt. "A magician; no less!"

Of course its all right to be "up in it" but there must be somebody at the bottom to form a base or foundation for those who enjoy the brilliant sunlight of distinction at the top. Our H. S. Philosopher

Lost: A large, well chewed wad of gum Finder please return same to High School Girls.

Smack! Crack!! Bang!!! No, this is not a slow motion picture of a dimly lighted parlor at 11 p. m. It is the smack of the baseball in the glove; the crack of the ball on bats; and the bang of same in the mitt. Undoubtedly base ball season is soon here!

A man may, if he knows not how to save as he gets, keep his nose all his life to the grindstone and die not worth a penny at last.

Benjamin Franklin