

Thomas Fallen has found farming too much for him on account of expensive help and so much sickness so he has given it up. The Hartman farm two miles east of Sutton was the home of the family for 17 years.