

C. A. Olson took his son Charlie to Minneapolis Monday to receive treatment at the Shriners' hospital for turned in feet. Mr. Olson was advised however that an operation or professional treatment will not be necessary to correct the defect.