

A great many from here took advantage of the fine weather Sunday, and went to Cooperstown to witness the services over the body of Gordon Lindgren, recently brought back from France. It was a military funeral, the Cooperstown American Legion and ex-service men from the county attending in a body. After short services at the playground the line of march to the cemetery was formed being headed by the band. At the ground the band played a funeral march, the farewell shots were fired and the bugler sounded taps, which closed the ceremony.
