

During his discourse Sunday at Mabel church, Rev. Thoeson expressed a desire that Griggs county do something in the way establishing a memorial in honor of Robert Lyle, the first Griggs county boy to fall in action. There is no doubt whatever, that if some one takes the initiative in this matter, a substantial fund could be easily raised with which to erect a suitable monument to his memory. It has been suggested that the newspapers of the county might help this cause along by devoting a little space to it.
