

The Sutton Glenfield orchestra aggregation, composed of John Duncker, violin, Hugh Hall, drums, and Mrs. Frank Heaney, piano, is becoming quite a factor in the success of the numerous dances given at both places. These musicians are playing all of the latest dance music and are practically the equal of professional dance orchestras. John Duncker, the violinist, is especially good on that instrument, and is giving the work most of his attention.