

Hans Simenson and wife received a card from Victor Thursday, saying he had landed in America last Sunday. This is the first word they have had from him since January, therefore they have been greatly worried about him.