

Tipping over Fords seems to have gained in popularity since Retzlaff's and Gunderson's had their mishap on their Grand Forks trip. Sunday, as C. W. Smith was returning from Oaks, he had a blowout, and as he was going about 25 miles an hour he lost control of his car and it turned completely over. The top and windshield were smashed, but he did not receive any injuries. Monday evening, Hilding Miller's Ford turned over near H. S. Honey's, and he was caught in the wreckage, sustaining some severe bruises about the shoulder.
