

Mrs. Martin Thompson had a severe accident to a finger one day last week while operating a washing machine. She was running the machine with one hand and attempted to adjust something with the other one when her finger was caught in the gearing and badly cut before she could stop the machine. She came to town at once and had Dr. Lewis dress the wound.