

Agnes Rosetta Reuter, born Oct. 19, 1884; died August 21, 1898.

Alma Graco Reuter, born Nov. 22, 1895, died Aug. 24, 1898.

It is with sadness the NEWS chronicles the death of two bright children of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Reuter. They were stricken with heat prostration and spinal meningitis. They were sick less than ten days and died just four days apart. All medical skill and careful nursing was of no avail, and they passed away as in a pleasant sleep. The funeral of Agnes took place on Tuesday and that of Alma on Wednesday. The floral offerings were many, being furnished by neighboring friends, of whom were the following:

Boquet of white flowers, Belle Pierce.
Floral cross and wreath, Mrs. H. Flohr.
Wreath, Lizzie Hemp.
Wreath, Lena and Josie Hemp.
Wreath, Emma Brueske.
Wreath, Mrs. Zeller.
Wreath, Mrs. Knecht.
Boquet, Tillie Reuter.
Boquet, Ella Henry.
Boquet, Mrs. Altringer.
Boquet, Mollie and Agnes Zeller.
Basket of flowers, Emma Luther.

The following furnished flowers for Alma:

Wreath of white flowers, Emma Brueske.
Wreath, Mrs. J. Altringer.
Cross of white flowers, Mrs. Knecht.
Anchor, Tillie Reuter.
Wreaths, Mrs. H. Flohr, Mrs. Emma Luther, Elsie Flohr.

We do not know the reason,
But yet it must be so;
Our little Babes have left us,
The ones we loved so true.

We loved our babes so dearly
And they loved us the same,
And yet we had to part with them
Although it caused much pain.

We tried so hard to keep them
But they were far beyond our reach,
For it was God's will to take them,
So let our darlings sleep.

Farewell our darlings both,
You'll be ready when we come,
To love us as you used to;
When our worldly work is done.

The family desire to thank all for the kindness bestowed upon them in their sad bereavement.
