

Correspondence

DAZEY ITEMS

Fred. Hamlin spent Sunday at home. Fred. is now working in Jamestown.

Otto Holman has enlarged his store-building, and has a nice place for business now, and better accommodations for living up-stairs.

Here the farmers have had a dispute with the Elevator men about the grade of their wheat, and they are shipping their grain direct to Duluth, and Minneapolis. Perhaps they will gain, but at the same time run a great risk of being the loser in the game.

The old barn of the Little Missouri Horse Company is now being occupied by S. Elair, who has at the present time a hundred head of horses there.

D. R. Swartwout and Mrs. Paterson of Wimbledon were here last Monday.

The school opens the first Monday in Oct. Mr. Sherman of Wimbledon will teach the school the coming term.

J. G. Grimmer was in town on Monday looking up the interests of the Wimbledon News. Mr. Grimmer is an old resident of Dazey and he shook hands with a good many of his old friends.

Ladies don't forget the special sale of fine shoes now on at Clevdening.