

DOVER DOINGS.

Since THE NEWS is a welcome visitor to many homes in Dover it is only fair that our neighborhood, which is second to none of its number of inhabitants in enterprise and resources for its own amusement and improvement should be brought into public notice through your columns, therefore we give a few of the more important events and trust that they may, at last, find a place in your waste basket. We heartily congratulate the editor on the success of his paper and hope that its publication may be of long duration. We feel that it is not only a benefit to the town of Wimbledon, but to adjoining towns and counties, and quite proudly do we mail a copy to our eastern friends whom we informed less than three years ago of the possibility of a post office nearer than Dazey, twelve miles distant, as a branch of the Soo line was then under construction and coming near us.

Children's Day services were observed in the Berlin school house on the 14th inst. The programs which were unusually fine, were rendered in a pleasing manner. The singing especially was a credit to our society, but more to our leader, Mr. James Murdock, when we take into consideration that there are no cultured voices, beside his own, in the choir, many of which are not even musical. The little ones, some of whom have not yet seen six summers, sang and recited in a manner that would do credit to much older ones. All things taken into consideration, our Children's Day was a grand success; and as each year brings that bright day to young and old, may we ever be able to say the same.

Our literary has revived somewhat. The meeting on the 12th inst. was well attended and the programme a decided improvement on many of the previous ones. Among the visitors of that evening we note the faces of Mr. and Mrs. Ross, Miss Langworthy and Mr. O. Swartwout, of Court may. We give them a hearty welcome and hope they may not only favor us again with their presence but with their aid to our literary efforts.

I, representing public opinion in Dover, wish the people of Pierceton to know that we are not unmindful of the fact that they have greatly improved the roads which we Diversites must pass over in traveling to and from Wimbledon, our nearest market. It reflects great credit on the town and will surely be the means of bringing more people into their neighborhood.

Many of the farmers of Dover are making hay. We regret to learn that Mr. Wm. Sandy is not in his usual good health, but hope for his speedy recovery.
